MARKETING STRATEGIST – PRODUCT MARKETING – GROWTH & CONTENT

Marketing professional with experience across product marketing, digital marketing, copywriting, audience research and customer acquisition. I work at the intersection of product, customer and marketing, helping businesses understand their audience, communicate their value clearly and turn interest into users. Currently CMO at Benva, an early-stage SaaS product, where I lead positioning, customer research, content and user acquisition across organic and paid channels.

PROFILE SUMMARY

- Experienced in developing product-focused marketing strategies that connect customer problems to clear, compelling value propositions.
- Skilled in customer and competitor research, translating insights into positioning, messaging, campaigns and acquisition experiments.
- Hands-on experience acquiring users through direct outreach, social media, community marketing and paid advertising.
- Strong copywriting and content background, including landing pages, email campaigns, social content, scripts, brochures and grant proposals.
